

Invitation

*To the official launch and celebration of the Victorian Association for Restorative Justice
Inc*

By Judge Eugene Cullity QC (retired) and Marg Armstrong, Churchill Fellowship holder and pioneer of restorative justice in Victorian schools.

Light refreshments will be served.

At Hyland's Barristers Mediation Suite, Isaacs Chambers, 555 Lonsdale Street, Melbourne, (ground floor –between King and William Streets).

On Wednesday 22nd June 2005 at 4.00pm

*A very different way of thinking about traditional notions such as deterrence, rehabilitation, incapacitation and crime prevention ... It also means transformed foundations of criminal jurisprudence and of our notions of freedom, democracy and community.
(Braithwaite)*

VARJ is a recently formed association of people interested in exploring and disseminating the principles of restorative justice and practices within the Victorian community. It holds meetings, seminars and workshops where people interested in restorative practices can share information and ideas about this exciting area of practice.

Judge Eugene Cullity AM QC (retired) is a former Chairperson of the Youth Parole Board of Victoria and Youth Residential Board of Victoria and has been recognised for his services to the law and the community through the Order of Australia. Marg Armstrong Senior Program Officer – Student Wellbeing/Drug Education, Southern Metropolitan Region, Department of Education & Training is an accredited community conference facilitator and has been working with schools in Victoria's Southern Metropolitan Region with training and implementation of restorative practices in schools. She is a recent recipient of the Churchill Fellowship to research restorative practices in schools internationally.

RSVP: If you would like to come or if you require further information please confirm or contact: Peter Condliffe, President, Barrister, Victorian Bar: Ph: 9225 6888 or Email pc@vicbar.com.au.